

Thammasat Business School welcomes UNC Kenan-Flagler Business School

On September 11, 2025, Assoc. Prof. Dr. Fredric William Swierczek, Director of Master of Business Administration Program in Global Business Management , warmly welcomed Ms. Valerie D. Slate, Director of MBA Global Programs at UNC Kenan-Flagler Business School, The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, during her visit to Thammasat Business School.

Thammasat Business School and UNC Kenan-Flagler Business School have shared a strong partnership since 1992, with both institutions proudly serving as members of the PIM network. Building on this long-standing collaboration, The Center for International Affairs, Thammasat Business School (TBS) is honored to host academic sessions for 54 MBA students as part of the UNC Summit @ Bangkok, scheduled for September 12–13, 2025.

During her time with us, Ms. Valerie D. Slate enjoyed a campus tour and a classroom visit, experiencing the vibrant learning environment of TBS. We sincerely thank UNC Kenan-Flagler for choosing Thammasat Business School as a partner in this meaningful journey.
