

15th International Conference on Public Health among Greater Mekong Sub-Regional Countries Kunming Medical University, China

The Faculty of Public Health proudly announces the participation of our esteemed leadership, faculty members, and students in the 15th International Conference on Public Health among Greater Mekong Sub-Regional Countries (15th ICPH-GMS), hosted by Kunming Medical University, China, from October 23–26, 2025.

Under the theme “Building a Regional Health Community: Challenges and Innovations in Public Health”, our delegation—including the Dean, Deputy Dean for Graduate Studies and Research, and distinguished professors—will engage in oral and poster presentations, exchange knowledge with international scholars, and strengthen academic networks to advance sustainable research and education in public health, occupational health, and safety.

This marks a pivotal step in enhancing the global impact of our research and educational initiatives, fostering collaboration for improved health equity across the Greater Mekong Sub-region.
