

"Empowering Thailand: Ajarn Nuntavarn Leads the Charge Against Tobacco Interference"

Join us in celebrating Ajarn Nuntavarn Vichit-Vadakan, a distinguished faculty member of the School of Global Studies at Thammasat University and the Director of the WHO FCTC Knowledge Hub for Article 5.3! On August 14, 2024, Ajarn Nuntavarn was featured on Healthstation Talk EP.3, hosted by Healthstation: The Central Station of Health.

This enlightening program, supported by the National Health Commission (NHC), focused on the National Health Act and its significance for the well-being of our loved ones. Alongside esteemed guests Prof. Dr. Prakrit Watee-Sadakij, President of the Foundation for Smoking Cessation Promotion, and Assoc. Prof. Dr. Lakkhana Themsirikulchai, Director of the Center for Developing Human Capacity in Tobacco Control, Ajarn Nuntavarn shared invaluable insights into how tobacco obstructs, undermines, and interferes with essential tobacco control policies and laws.

Understanding these dynamics is crucial for Thais as it sheds light on the serious implications of policy interference by businesses. Awareness and advocacy are key to ensuring the enactment of effective tobacco control measures for the health of our communities. Tune in to discover why this knowledge is vital for a healthier Thailand!
